Note club has been about the overall development of an individual than just focusing on one aspect. We have come up with our event Hyperbole. In it we have 3 rounds of technical/ aptitude and fun filled experiences. It makes one work with the team to move ahead in the game.

Each round has a time ticking where teams must be agile in solving problems to proceed.

Round 1 – Tug of Cake – In this round the teams must compete against each other where each right answer pushes the bounty towards them.

Round 2 – Smart Charades – Here a team must solve few questions first and then enact an idiom to their team. The teams which solve quick move on to the last round.

Round 3 – Brainy hoop – This is the final round of Hyperbole, in which teams have to answer a question right after which they have a chance to shoot a basketball in a hoop. When all 4 members of a team are done shooting, they are marked against time to finalize our winners.
